The Casalis are training future Bible translators to analyze written languages. Rod is teaching on the campus of Western University, in Langley, British Columbia for the program called Canada Institute of Linguistics (CanIL). He also is developing software tools to aid in language analysis. Ellen is involved in numerous ministry opportunities on and off campus. The last two summers Rod and family have been part of the teaching staff at Asia Research Institute of Languages and Culture at Handong Global University in Korea, mainly serving Korean Wycliffe members.

Prayer is asked for: wisdom, strength, and clarity for Rod in teaching; Ellen's balance of family, outside interests, and mission responsibilities; Ongoing direction for Christopher, Andrew, and Amy as they mature, making important life and work decisions; each of them to walk closely with the Lord, and seek to please Him daily.
